Frost damage almond crop!

Higher prices to be expected!

Due to the unexpected, severe drop in temperatures on the first weekend of April this year, including in Spain, the almond harvest has been severely damaged. March was characterized by sunny, spring-like weather. This led to a seasonally appropriate almond blossom. The subsequent unusually low temperatures caused lasting damage to the blossoms. Accordingly, a much poorer harvest than usual is to be expected.

As your qualified importer we would like to inform you already now that it cannot be excluded that increasing prices are to be expected soon.

No supply bottleneck despite Ukraine crisis!

Organic linseed, brown from alternative cultivation area!

For the well-known and difficult to bear reasons of the crisis in Eastern Europe with consequences in terms of agricultural products, we would like to offer you an alternative to organic linseed, brown:

Fresh goods from Egypt will be available in good quality in the coming weeks.

If you are interested, please feel free to contact us.

Change in the management

Management extended by two additional managing directors!

At the end of 2021, Patrick Curran and Markus Dornhege, founding partners 20 years ago, were appointed as additional managing directors. Due to expansion in various areas, the two former authorized signatories with sole power of attorney have now been appointed as managing directors with sole power of representation. This gives us more flexibility and enables us to better represent different areas.

Together with Michael Hebandanz, the management now consists of the triumvirate of the three founding members.

We are very happy to have implemented this further development now in order to be able to continue to guarantee the success of Delphi Organic in the future.

IFS Broker certificate continuously renewed

IFS Audit successfully passed!

Once again this year we have met the high standards of IFS certification by accredited auditors. Due to the certification on a higher level we consider ourselves lucky to be able to provide our customers as a broker with the guarantee of the highest product requirements. Flawlessly controlled and certified goods are naturally part of our repertoire.
